Purpose of the Partnership

To preserve Japan's world-class universal medical insurance system established by our predecessors and pass on a prosperous and secure Japanese society to future generations

Japan's 2040 Problem

A vicious cycle in which the working-age population's disposable income is eroded, further accelerating the declining birthrate

Hope for the Future

Health and active participation of all generations, including seniors, will create prosperity for the next generation.

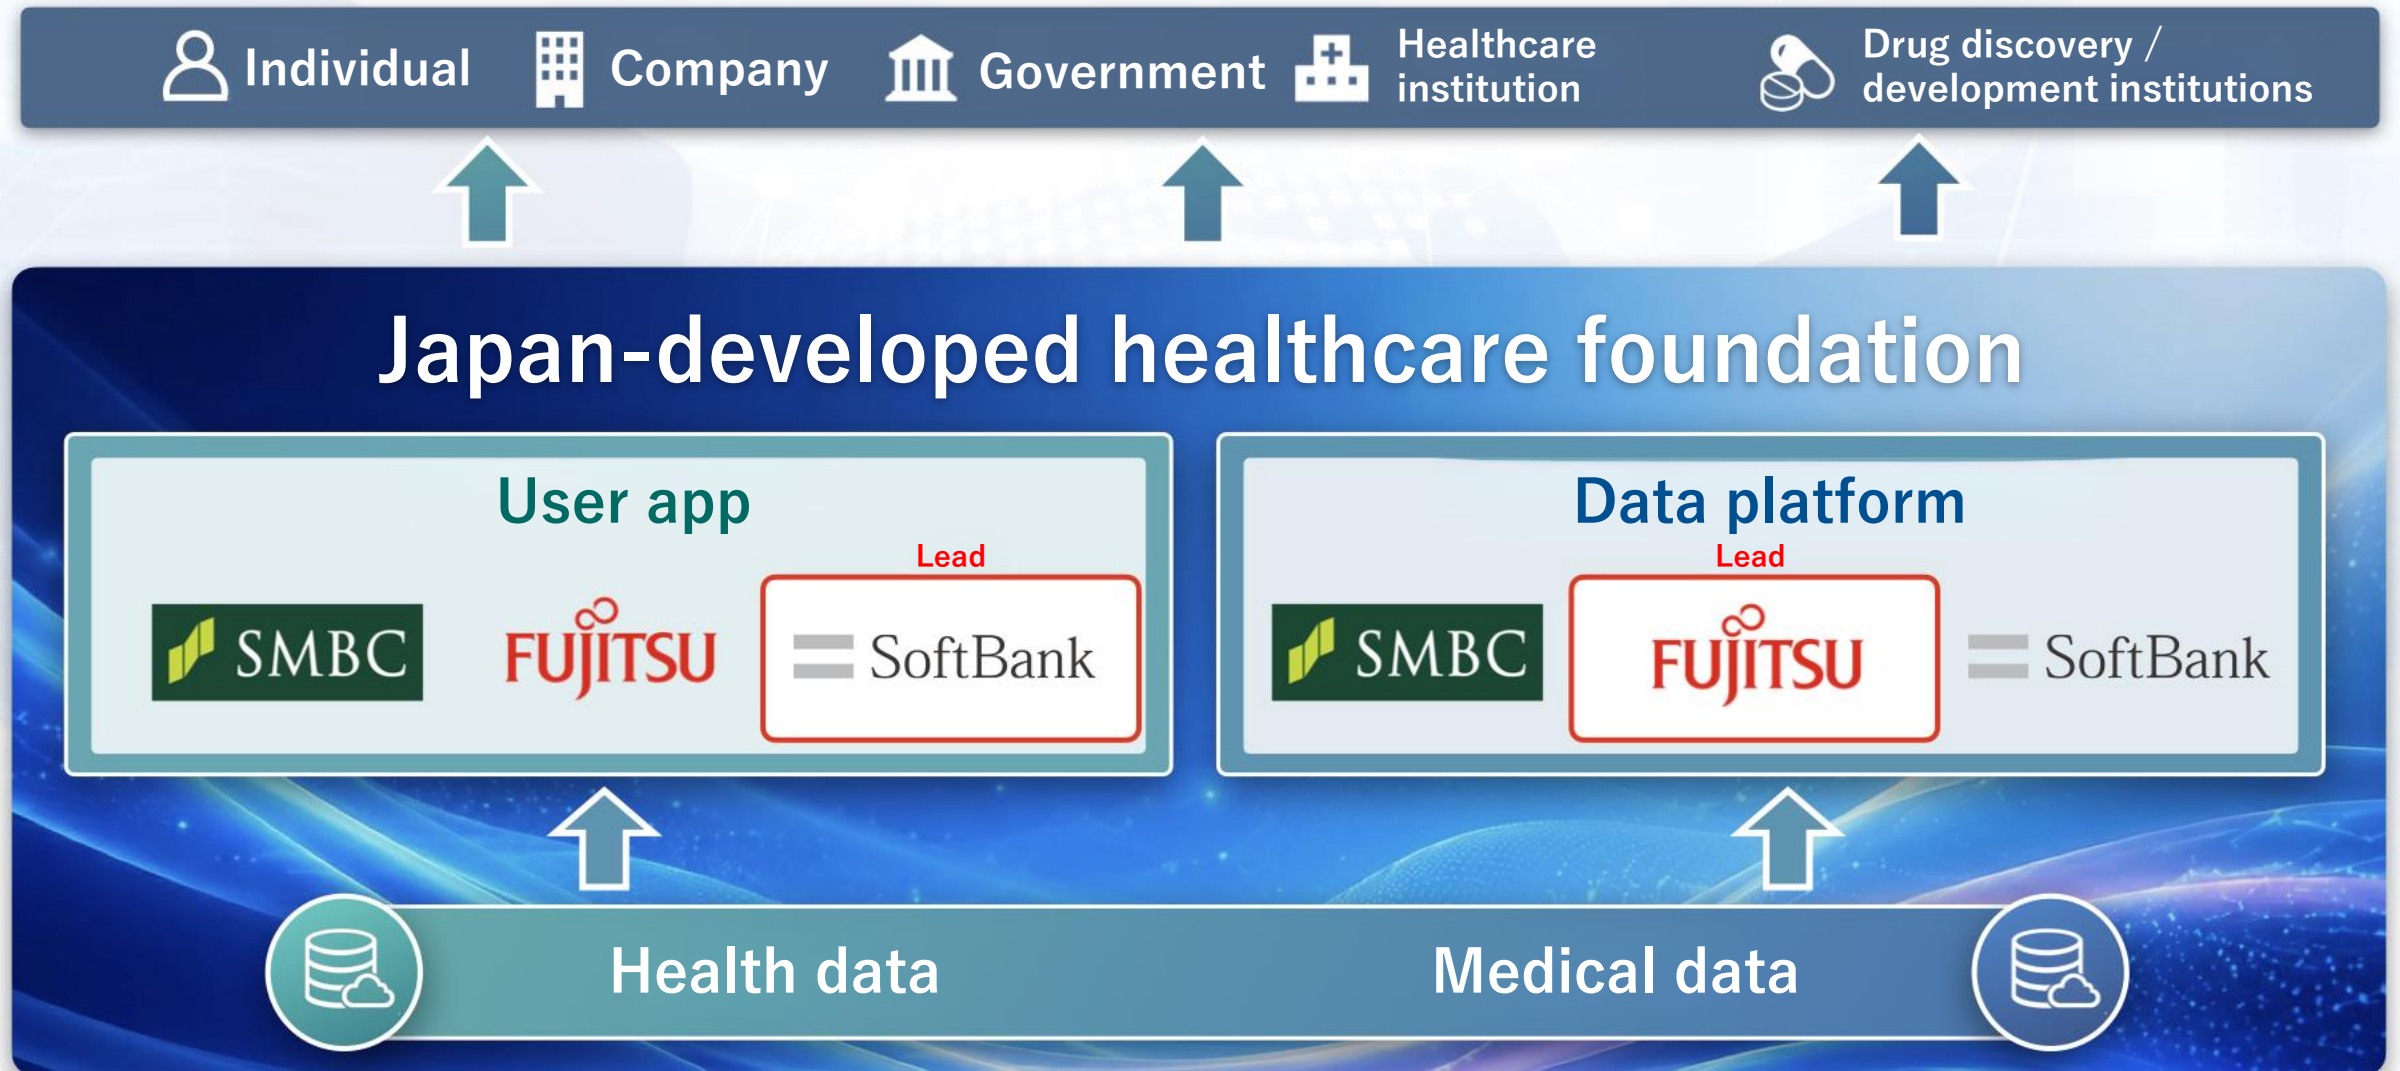

- All generations, including seniors, maintain good health and actively contribute to society

- Curbing the rise in medical costs
- Alleviating labor shortages
- Increasing disposable income for the working-age population
- Strengthening the nation's fiscal capacity

Young people gain hope for the future and become the driving force of economic growth
